DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lindman et al. (US 5974655).

Lindman's invention is directed to a method of simplifying the manner in which a loudspeaker is mounted on a circuit board for devices such as a telephone by maintaining requisite sealing and damping between the loudspeaker and the circuit board, the loudspeaker is affixed directly to the circuit board (1) by means of a double-side adhesive annulus (3) with the diaphragm of the loudspeaker facing towards the board, wherein the board has holes (4) located opposite the loudspeaker (Abstract). Although Lindman is silent about the maximum loss tangent being equal or greater than 1 in a frequency region equal or greater than  $10^3$  Hz, it is noted that the scope of the invention is essentially the same as the instantly claimed invention, as such an adhesive layer having a suitable maximum loss tangent is believed to be inherently disclosed.

Claims lack novelty.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over JP 2000-106596 (English Abstract).

JP '596 is directed to mount a submersion discrimination seal unit to a case of a portable telephone by using a double-coated tape. Although JP '596 lacks an express teaching that the maximum loss tangent being equal or greater than 1 in a frequency region equal or greater than  $10^3$  Hz, it is noted that the scope of the invention is essentially the same as the instantly claimed invention, as such it is believed that an adhesive layer having a suitable maximum loss tangent is either inherently disclosed, or an obvious optimization to one skilled in the art, motivated by the desire to keep the integrity of the mounted parts in a portable phone firmly attached.

Claims lack novelty.
